I am proud to announce the long awaiting Mail Inspector 4.1. The release candidate 1 is ready for download from the 'Download' section.

This release candidate already runs quite stable but is not yet the final release. If it runs stable in out in the field as well it will get the final version. This version is thought to be the base for the translations which then will be included into the final version.

People interested helping with translations please have a look the this thread in the forum.
